

Samantha Bohatsch
She Said (page 1/5)

when I saw you
the very first time

I would feel like
a worm
naked
without my skin

the visions
the light
the sound
the colours

would hit me
but
kiss me
dead

I was dead but I was reborn
newborn

when you told me
to not be afraid

I couldn't help myself but scream
silently

how could you keep on living doing what you have to do when nothing is the same again

when you're dead
and newborn

I
you

never thought this would happen never felt so isolated scared to death
